Come Join our new Sunday Program for Male Dancers

The Ballet Studio announces our new Boys' / Men's Sunday Program geared to the specific needs of male dancers. This new class offers a unique opportunity for male dancers ages eight to adult.

"The essence of a male dancer goes beyond the execution of steps and tricks. A true danseur noble is a pupil who is fully accessible as a human being and as an artist on stage. He gives himself fully to the ballerina with whom he dances and he is equally able to share his solo dancing with soul and honesty," says Charles Torres, Ballet Master and Instructor of the Boys' / Men's Sunday Program.

A longtime instructor at The Ballet Studio, Torres will lead a Program that will enable the male dancer to establish a solid foundation, have the freedom to explore, experience guest performances, and enjoy the unique qualities of dance for boys and men.

While The Ballet School continues to offer a rigorous program for adults and youth Monday through Saturday, the new Sunday Program will enable male dancers from various schools throughout the Bay Area to enroll one day a week in a class that focuses on artistry, technique and creativity within a repertoire particularly geared for male dancers.

The Boys' / Men's Program is offered Sundays, from 12:00 to 1:30 beginning August 29, and continuing through 2011. We offer a sliding scale, and scholarships are available.

To enroll, or for more information about our regular class offerings and placement evaluations for the 2010/2011 season, please contact The Ballet Studio.
